MARKETS ADJACENT TO OGDEN ARE SUBJECT OF A FOLDER

The Ogden Publicity bureau has just issued a new folder under the title of "Farm lands, fruit lands and Markets adjacent to Ogden." The front page contains a picture of a stretch of the Davis and Weber counties canal, with a view of the land which it irrigates and the back page has a picture of orchard scenes near Ogden. The folder comprises eight pages and the other six give valuable information concerning the opportunities for homeseekers in Weber, Box Elder and Cache counties, and all northern Nevada.

Concerning the market it says: "The railroad facilities at Ogden for the northern part of Utah offer opportunity for the farmer to gain markets east and west. What grains are not purchased by the millers and grain men in the state are taken to the eastern markets through this railroad gateway. Ogden, too, is a distributing point for a large portion of the intermountain country. A large cereal food factory is being built at Ogden and will be in operation in 1915. This plant will use much of the grain and produce breakfast foods, etc. Ogden and Salt Lake City as cities with a large percentage of non-producing inhabitants, also afford markets for the different products of the farm and orchard. The same applies to the mining and smelter towns adjacent to these cities.

"At no time has there been any great difficulty in obtaining markets for the products of the farm and orchard. That this phase of the question should not hamper the homeseeker in his decision in selecting one of the northern counties of Utah as a place to make his home."

RECRUITING STATION OPENED IN OGDEN BY THE NAVY

Notwithstanding all the talk that there has been about business depression, hard times and idle men, recruits for the navy have not been coming forward fast enough—that is, the sort of men with the physical requirements, desired—and the navy department has instructed its recruiting force to enlist all desirable applicants, and to that end a navy recruiting station has been opened in Ogden.

The Ogden station is in charge of Chief Gunner Mate E. F. Stodolier, assisted by Chas. A. Shirliffe of the hospital corps.

Mr. Stodolier, in a conversation with a representative of the Standard, stated that there had been numerous applications for enlistment, and that quite a number had been accepted. "Let me tell you," he said, "that the average recruit from the interior states makes a better showing both physically and mentally than does the average man from the Atlantic or Pacific coasts."

"Quickness of eye, sureness of ear, agility of movements, and an athletic bearing—ready for the swift-moving emergencies of a naval engagement—are only a few of the qualities a man must have before he can be adjudged a fit person to shoulder the responsibilities for the millions of dollars that are invested in battleships, and to uphold the past history of our navy and the honor of the nation."

"Men of promise are accepted by Uncle Sam just as quickly as men of past attainments. Not records of bravery, skill and endurance, but the capacity for these things is what we want."

"It is true that there are men in the navy, as in other walks of life, who attain little or no success nor much advantage, but that is not the fault of the navy department, nor of the officers placed over such men, for I know that any young man who enters the navy today with the determination to succeed will surely gain promotion that will compare favorably with the best that he may hope to attain while following the pursuits of civil life. At present there are 85 men studying for entrance to the Naval academy, 356 for warrant rank, and thousands of others who are taking special courses incident to promotion in their respective ratings."

"I know of no other employment where a young man can advance himself so rapidly, and it is surprising to me that so many young men fail to take advantage of the opportunity. It is true that in the days of the old navy, things were not always as pleasant as they are in these days of steam, electricity, and other twentieth century conveniences. The navy of twenty-five or fifty years ago had little to offer except hardship and rough adventure."

"It required but little preparation to fill a position in the old navy. A battle meant a hand-to-hand fight, grappling, ironing, and boarding the enemy with a cheer. Modern inventions, as you know, have changed all that, and while life in the navy of today is not as romantic as formerly, much has been added to its value."

"The principal requirements of the average man in the old navy was that he be able to obey orders, or in other words—have a strong back and a weak mind. Today the services of skilled mechanics, electricians, boiler-makers, plumbers, carpenters, stenographers, drug clerks, skilled bakers and cooks are required. Yes, even telephone operators and telegraphers are needed."

FORD COMPANY RAISES WAGES

Sweeping Advance With Reduction of Working Hours for All Employees in Canada.

Detroit, Mich., April 21.—Announcement of a sweeping advance in wages and reduction of working hours for all employees of the Ford Motor Company, Ltd., of Canada, was made here today by G. M. McGregor, general manager of the concern. All employees who have been in the service of the company six months or longer are to receive a minimum wage of 50 cents an hour, or $4 a day, the working hours being reduced to 8 hours a day, or 48 hours a week.

ATHLETES EXPECT TO SMASH RECORDS

Philadelphia, Pa., April 21.—With the running of the University of Pennsylvania relay race only two days off, interest in the affair increases. The expectation is that many records will be smashed.

Robinson, formerly of Mercersburg academy, but now a student at Michigan, will compete against the rest of the flyers. His entry promises to make this race the classic that has been held since the Olympic championships in Stockholm. Robinson is the sprinter who was credited with 20 4/5 seconds for 220 yards three years ago at the interscholastic games at State college. It is true he was not given the record, but he has frequently done 100 yards in ten seconds and has run the quarter mile in 45 4/5 seconds.

UNITED STATES ANSWERS KAISER

Reply to Recent Note Dealing With Exportation of Arms to Allies Delivered.

Washington, April 21.—The reply of the United States to the recent memorandum from Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, dealing with exportation of arms to the allies, will be delivered today to the German embassy. Secretary Bryan made this announcement today but would not discuss the details of the reply.

Secretary Bryan declined to say whether the reply accepted the ambassador's memorandum as from the German government or an expression of Count Bernstorff's personal views.

Regarding the ambassador's protest against the sale of arms and ammunition to the allies it is understood that the reply declares that any attempt at this stage of the war to prohibit the sale of arms to any applicant would constitute a real breach of neutrality.

The note is said to hold that it is Germany's misfortune, if she is unable to convey arms to her home ports while the market is open to her, and finally that there is no possible application in the present conditions of the peculiar legislation and rules made in the case of Mexico.
